

(Fast) Thanksgiving Tabletop Decor From the Garden

Share Post f t p ✉ PDF

Kate Karam | October 31, 2017

We love all of the elaborate displays for decorating the Thanksgiving Day dining table that we see on Instagram, but sometimes you just need to keep it simple and fast. We went searching and found a few great ideas that look impressive, but are super easy. No matter how little time you have, there's an idea here we're pretty sure you can make happen. Take the picture above—a few branches, some fall leaves, a wonderful garden space. Magic.

THIRTY MINUTES

(Left) Gluegun, acorns, basket! Fun project for an evening and the results are spectacular. Fill with rosehips, fruits, and a few flowers. Great for a sideboard!

(Above) Hit the thrift store for clear glass cylinders and footed jars that you'll fill with dried leaves, branches, dried vines, pomegranates, and anything else that's colorful and speaks to autumn. Love the texture of the twine wrapped around one! We'd do three to five of the same and march them down the table.

FIFTEEN MINUTES

(Above) Olive branches (or any branches from conifers to California pepper) laid down the length of a dining table are so simple yet so elegant everyone will ask who's your designer. Of course, it's just you and your trusty clippers. Go lavish! (Hose down the foliage and let dry before bringing indoors.) (Right) Fill a dough trough to the max with persimmons or whatever is fresh and fall-ish from your garden or farmer's market. Add branches and snips of leaves.

FIVE MINUTES

Cover the table with craft paper (learn how to make this here) and add bits of fresh greenery (whatever's handy), candles, and baby white pumpkins.

Grab a pen (and recruit the guest with the best handwriting) and turn a perfect fall leaf into the perfect fall table placecard.

Leave a Comment

LOGIN/REGISTER

Monrovia reserves the right to remove comments deemed offensive, vulgar or inappropriate at any time without explanation.

Your email address will not be published. Required fields are marked *

* Name

* Email

POST COMMENT

Show 6 comment(s)

Suggested Posts

8 Trends Influencing the Gardening World in 2018

In 2018, we predict, based on extensive research, that the garden will be a both a haven and a laboratory as gardeners seek a respite from a stressful world, and ...

Kate Karam | January 9, 2018

Our 2018 New Plants Collection!

What's new for 2018? Loads of fuss-free, compact, reblooming shrubs, disease-resistant floribunda-type roses, colorful conifers, and drought-tolerant perennials--35 new plants in all, our largest collection of new released in one ...

Kate Karam | January 2, 2018

Cold-Loving Succulents for Winter Color

Sempervivums (Hens and Chicks) are incredibly cold-tolerant little living sculptures that add color, texture, and form to the winter garden. Native to exposed rocky, mountain slopes most will thrive in ...

Kate Karam | October 31, 2017

Sign up for our newsletter

Connect with us

